

Looking for Cats: Gramma Finds Feline Friends in Lakota Land. (Paperback)

By Paula Harrison-jones

Createspace, United States, 2015. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 279 x 216 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .I wrote Looking For Cats while I was working on the Oglala Sioux reservation and living in Pine Ridge, SD. I was fascinated with the Lakota culture and the way I saw that culture being lived out daily by natives on the reservation. I found the people to be proud and strong; governing themselves and reflecting the artistic talents that are so prevalent in their culture. I am proud to call them my friends and enjoyed their loyalty and unpretentious way of life. Having been raised on a farm and being inseparable from my horses, I was delighted to see Sioux children free to ride their horses wherever they chose. I watched parades from my porch where I could hear the rodeo announcers calling out, Pine Ridge, get ready to see the cowboys herding these wild horses through town on their way back to the sanctuary, and then watching those beautiful creatures pounding across the green space right in front of me. Life for me during those years was so full of adventure. I was enthralled to watch...

Reviews

This book is definitely not straightforward to get started on studying but extremely exciting to read. It is really simplistic but shocks in the 50 percent of the ebook. Once you begin to read the book, it is extremely difficult to leave it before concluding.

This publication is amazing. It is definitely basic but shocks in the fifty percent of your publication. You wont feel monotony at anytime of your own time (that's what catalogues are for concerning if you question me).
